HI, I'M IGGI · JAMES'S TRIP-BUILDING BUDDY

Every place in here has a page number. Circle the ones that make you grin, then find Iggi's Compass on the Iceland page at jameswildco.com. Tell me your month and your crew; I'll sketch the route, James takes it from there. Never lost. Only scenic.

Dear Jane,

I vetted Iceland in 2007. I don't put a place in a guide until I've seen it for myself, and Iceland earned its page. It is a small country that behaves like a large one: glaciers, lava, waterfalls and a coastline that never seems to end, all within a day's drive of Reykjavík.

Iceland changes faster than most places I know. New lava on Reykjanes, new lodges in the Highlands, new roads and new rules. The light changes even faster. In June it barely gets dark; in December the sun stays low and the northern lights take over.

So how you go matters. Pick the season first, then the region, then the pace. Drive less than you think, stay longer than you planned, and let the weather have a vote. That's what this guide is for.

THE COLOURS OF THIS GUIDE

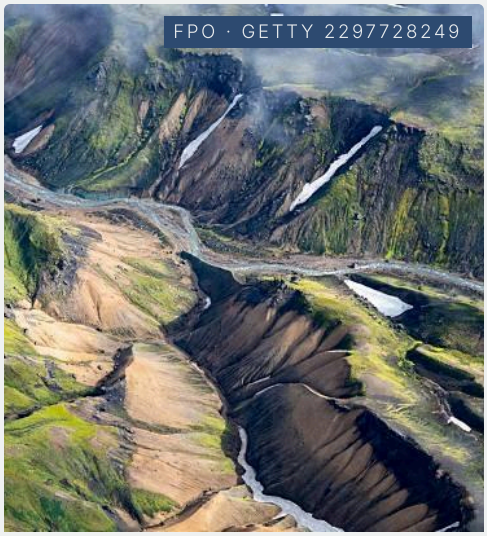

Cobalt sea, basalt, glacier blue-grey and lichen: Iceland's own colours, above and below the surface.

COBALT · BLUE-GREY · LICHEN · GLACIER · BASALT

A country still being made

Why visit Iceland: glaciers and volcanoes side by side, wildlife on the cliffs and in the fjords, and light that changes everything twice a year.

Landmannalaugar, the Highlands in colour

GETTY IMAGES

Fire and ice, side by side

Glaciers cover about 11.5% of the land, and 32 volcanic systems sit beneath and beside them. Vatnajökull National Park alone covers nearly 14% of the country.

Wildlife on the edges

About 60% of the world's Atlantic puffins breed here. Humpbacks feed off Húsavík in summer, and the Arctic fox is the only native land mammal.

Two kinds of light

Near-endless daylight from late May to July. Northern lights from about September to April. Pick the one you came for.

MAY – AUGUST

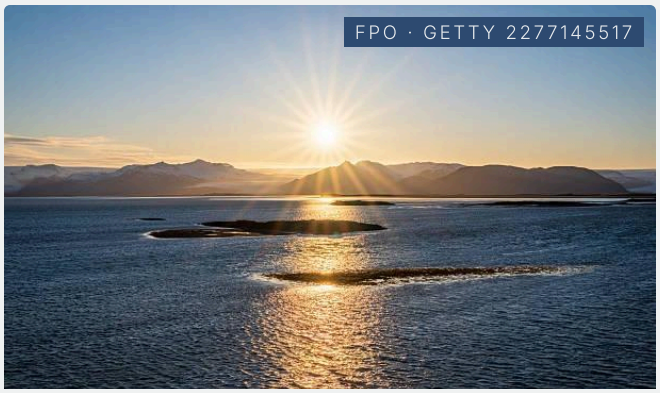

The light season

Midnight sun, puffins on the cliffs, peak whales and the Highland roads open, usually from about early July.

SEPTEMBER – APRIL

The dark season

Northern lights, ice and orcas off Snæfellsnes in spring. Short days, and weather that can cancel plans.

Summer: the sun barely sets GETTY IMAGES

Winter: Hvítserkur under the aurora GETTY IMAGES

Who Iceland is for, and who it isn't

The short answer: almost anyone curious who doesn't mind a change of plan. Here's how I'd match you.

BEST FOR	IDEAL LENGTH	BEST TIME	HOW
Curious, active people who like weather with character	7 to 12 days; 4 for Reykjavík and one region	May–Aug for light, Sep–Apr for aurora	Private driver-guide, small ship, or both

MADE FOR YOU IF YOU'RE…

First-timers

RULES OF THE ROAD

STAY & PREPARE

01 Never drive off the road. It's illegal, and the moss takes decades to heal.

02 Check two websites every morning. vedur.is for weather, road.is for roads.

03 Stay 30 metres back at Reynisfjara. The sneaker waves are real.

04 Shower before the pool. Without the swimsuit. Everyone does.

WORDS WE'VE STRUCK OUT

STAY & PREPARE

~~land of fire and ice~~	True, and on every fridge magnet. We'll say glaciers and volcanoes.
~~hidden gem~~	Nothing here is hidden. It's just a long way down a gravel road.
~~guaranteed aurora~~	Nobody can promise the sky. We can promise the right place to wait.

What to know, and what not to expect

Getting to Iceland, entry rules, driving, money and straight answers.

Getting there

About 5 hours 40 minutes nonstop from New York to Keflavík. The airport is about 50 km from Reykjavík. Iceland is on UTC+0 all year.

Entry

Iceland is in Schengen, not the EU. The EU's Entry/Exit System has been fully running since April 2026. ETIAS is expected in late 2026 [confirm before travel].

Driving

Off-road driving is illegal. F-roads are 4×4 only. A per-kilometre road charge has applied since 1 January 2026, billed through your rental.

Money & plugs

Icelandic króna, but nearly everything takes cards; know your PIN. Tipping isn't expected. Plugs are type C/F, 230 V. Cold tap water is excellent.

What not to expect

~~Warm beaches~~	Black sand, cold sea, dangerous waves.
~~A fixed plan~~	The weather has a vote. Leave a spare day.
~~Cheap dinners~~	Iceland is expensive. The lamb is worth it.
~~Dark summer nights~~	Bring an eye mask in June.
~~A promised aurora~~	Clear, dark nights only. Patience helps.

Straight answers

Drive myself? In summer, if you're confident. In winter, take a driver-guide.

Safety? Call 112, and use the Safetravel app to log your route.

Children? A great fit. Age limits apply on some tours [confirm per program].

IGGI'S PACKING LIST FOR ICELAND

- ☐ Waterproof shell, jacket and trousers
- ☐ Waterproof hiking boots
- ☐ Swimsuit and quick-dry towel
- ☐ Type C/F plug adapter
- ☐ Merino base layers
- ☐ Microspikes in winter
- ☐ Eye mask for the midnight sun
- ☐ A refillable water bottle

Words you'll hear on the road

Takk
Thank you. Takk fyrir is the full version.

Góðan daginn
Good day. Works until evening.

Jökull
Glacier, as in Vatnajökull and Snæfellsjökull.

Foss
Waterfall, as in Skógafoss and Goðafoss.

Fjörður
Fjord, as in Seyðisfjörður and Ísafjörður.

Hraun
Lava field. You will drive across a great many.

Laug
A pool or warm spring. Every town has one.

Heiði
Heath or high moorland pass. Check the road before crossing.

Skál
Cheers.

Þetta reddast
"It will all work out." The national motto, more or less.

A LAST WORD FROM JAMES

Jane, that's Iceland as I first saw it in 2007, and as it is now. Circle what moves you, cross out what doesn't, and send it back to me. I'll read every mark and call you with a plan. The island will have changed again by the time you land. That's the fun of it.
